Well-being

It's great to be engaged in work that doesn't really seem like work. There is an old saying, "Choose a job you love, and you will never have to work a day in your life". This is so true. I have recently joined IWFM and obtained my MIWFM designation. Even though I have been actively engaged in other associations and many projects that vary considerably in scope and context in different areas for the profession I work in, I can say it is always interesting, and there is always growth and the thirst for knowledge in this ever-changing landscape.

Love what you do, network and share your knowledge and experience to help others. That is one of the keys to success and happiness!
